Cowley Happenings

A. Betts has purchased a new Ford car.

Robert Welsh has purchased a new Ford car.

Peter Verquin spent Sunday with F. W. Gadsal.

Forest ranger W. T. Eddy was in town on business Monday.

J. P. Swinney, of Fishburn, spent the week end in this district.

John M. Lazen has tired of this life and gone down east to get married.

Mrs. W. Patterson, of Bellevue, is spending a few days here with parents this week.

C. Raby, of Cardston, is buying cattle in this district. Collie Buchanan is taking him the rounds by car.

D. A. Sinclair, A. McLeod and W. J. Bartlett and family motored to town from Blairmore on Sunday for a "square."

M. A. Murphy, John Kemm and George Buchanan motored into Pincher Creek with H. P. McMillan on Friday night to attend the Masonic lodge.

Rev. Willis Wright, of Pincher Creek, paid a visit to Rev. W. M. Chalmers on Thursday. Both left for Coleman this morning to attend the induction of Rev. D. K. Allan.

A baby girl has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Marlow, of Warner. Mr. and Mrs. Marlow lived in this district up until a few months ago, and are well known in this vicinity.

The Union Sunday school gave a concert in the Presbyterian church on Friday night in aid of the Belgians. Most of the programme was rendered by the children and an enjoyable time was reported by all. The proceeds amounted to $15.00.

The beginning of the end of the threshing of last year's crop is now in sight. F. W. Fisher expects to wind his threshing up by the end of the week, while George Dwyer has a threshing outfit at work at his many stacks which he hopes to get finished in a few days.

The school children had a holiday on Friday, it being Arbor Day. They made them selves busy by cleaning the school house up and planning to beautify the school grounds by planting trees as soon as the weather will permit. We hope every effort possible will be put forth to make the trees grow, so that the little ones will feel satisfied with their labor.

Tide Definitely

Turned Against Hun

London, May 17.—The Daily Chronicle correspondent in Paris sends the following dispatch:

"Although the German commanders dare not confess failure in their Verdun enterprise by closing it down and cutting off the losses, the stress of public interest here, now altogether relieved of anxiety is passing to other fields where events of different character are preparing."

"Now that 300,000 of the best German soldiers have been lost on the hillside of the Meuse, a very grave and daily aggravated situation faces the kaiser and his grand staff. The tide has definitely turned. From west and east their long-expected destiny is closing in upon them."

"At no moment in the battle of Verdun have they dared to bring thither any unit from before the British front. Other parts of the German front have been stripped of all the superfluous strength and the forces in Russia is similarly applied to feed this adventure. Since last September at least 21 divisions have been transferred from the east to the west front. 15 of these coming from Russia direct, and five or six others by way of Serbia or other indirect way."

"There is thus left in Russia a mere curtain of German troops, while Bulgaria and Turkey are being gradually left to shift for themselves."

"If the Germans contemplate a great offensive by land and sea against Riga and the Dvina," said General Cherfille today, "they will have to reinforce their 48 divisions of infantry. These, spread along a front of 350 miles, give less than one man per yard. It is little enough for defence. For an attack 10 men per yard are needed on the line chosen."

"Where are such reinforcements to come from? It is very doubtful whether the depots in Germany contain the necessary numbers and the quality of German infantry has certainly much deteriorated. Nor would the wreckage of the battle of Verdun provide a striking force even if the crown prince could not disengage himself in that region."

"There is every reason to hope that with the close of the battle of Verdun there is opening a new and final stage of the war, in which its authors will be bound to reason, if not by imminent threat, then by the actual hand of famine and military disaster."

How It Originated

The military salute has a curious origin. It dates back to the days of the tournaments where were presided over by a queen of beauty. The knights and their equires and all who took part in the tourney, on presenting themselves before the queen, lifted each one a hand level with the brows, as though dazzled by the light of her presence. From this custom came the soldier's salute to his superior officer.

By August the big European war will have cost $45,000,000,000. The heaviest cost is on Great Britain and Germany. The American civil war in the sixties lasted four years and cost $6,000,000,000. That war was hard on private. After it was over only one private and a million officers were left to tell how it happened.

Prairie Lumber Industry

Lumbering Industry of the Prairie Provinces of Some Importance

Although the prairie provinces are usually associated with one particular pursuit, namely, farming, the forested portions give rise to a lumbering industry of importance, and while inferior in development to those of British Columbia or the eastern provinces, are of great value to the immigrant settlement in the west. In 1913 some 118 mills in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta sawed approximately 256 million feet of lumber, valued at the point of manufacture at over $4,200,000. Of this quantity, Saskatchewan forest produced approximately two-thirds, Alberta one-fifth, and Manitoba the balance. The prairie market consumes about 1,424 million feet of lumber annually. Over one-half of this comes from British Columbia (in part from the Railway Belt portion), and the remainder is supplied from northwestern Ontario, the United States, and the home forests—Forest Protection in Canada, 1913-14.

GOOD REPORT

Doctor Proved Value of Postum

Physicians know that good food and drink, properly selected, are of the utmost importance to the relief of disease but to maintain health even when one is well. A doctor writes, "I can't tell a pleasure to say a good word for Postum which I have been enabled to refer so many sufferers, and which I compare with its valued companion, Grape-Nuts, one of the daily blessings."

"Coffee was banished from my own table some time ago and Postum used regularly in its place. The tea and coffee are injurious to many persons, because they contain the subtle, poisonous drug, caffeine."

"I frequently find it necessary to instruct patients when they take Postum for the first time to be quite sure that it is properly made according to direction, then it has a clear, satiny, brown color and a rich, nutty taste, as well as health giving qualities."

The above letter, received over ten years ago, is fully confirmed by a recent letter from the doctor, in which he says:

"It is a pleasure to render a good report covering a product of which I am so enthusiastic."

"I am using in my home your Postum Cereal in both its forms. And, what is more, I am having it used in the families of several patients in whom there are children, and all unite in endorsing the fine qualities of your shirubine product."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in hot or cold water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 10c and 15c tins.

Both forms are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. There's a Reason.

The Object of the Allies

From Sir Edward Grey's Speech in Parliament Defending the Blockade

Let us also bear this in mind. I do not say that we are exercising these measures of blockade for the sake of the war. We have no other object in view. If we had no allies I have no doubt we should have done exactly the same thing, and, as the house says, it is our duty to this country to do so. But we do not let us forget that it is our duty to our allies as well. We are in this war with our allies, and we have been under every effort has been made to find a settlement with our allies, which could have been found, either by conference, as we suggested, or by reference to the Hague tribunal, as the Emperor of Russia suggested. Prussian militarism would not have any other settlement but was, therefore, now in the war with our allies. I say nothing of what the actual conditions of peace will be, because those are things we must discuss with our allies and settle in common with them. But the object to be obtained—and until it is obtained the war must proceed—is that there shall not be this sort of military in Europe, which in time of peace would cause the whole continent discomfort by its continual menace, and then, when it thinks the moment has come that suits itself, would plunge the continent into war. The whole of our resources are engaged in the war. Our maximum effort, whether it be military, naval, or financial, is all directed towards the war. Part of that effort is and must remain that, whether it be in the interests of ourselves or of our allies, in the interests of the great cause—the great transcending cause, which unites us all together, which makes us feel that national life will not be safe and individual life will not be worth living unless we can achieve successfully the object of this war—in that common cause we are determined to exert all our efforts to put the maximum possible pressure upon the enemy, and part of that pressure must be, and continue to be, doing the most we can to prevent supplies going to or from the enemy, and in common with our allies, sparing nothing, whether it be military, naval, or financial effort, which this country can afford, to see the thing through with them to the end.

In British Columbia a government has been introduced to the land, homesteads and loans for returned soldiers, with provisions to prevent the lands getting into the hands of speculators.

15 Years in Public Schools

Interesting Data Based on Report of the Minister of Education (Contributed by Norman F. Black, M.A., D.Paed., Regina)

The recently published report of the Saskatchewan Education Department for 1914 indicates that the average school year for the schools of the province consisted of 185 teaching days and that the average Saskatchewan school boy attended for 100 days. The aggregate enrolment in the elementary schools amounted to 111,059. If this number is divided by the number of days in the average school year (185) and the result is multiplied by 100, it is seen that the actual attendance throughout the province was only slightly over 52 per cent. of what it would have been had all the pupils enrolled attended every day that school was open. That means that out of every 100 Saskatchewan school children 47 are absent on the average every school day.

"A Comparative Study of the Public School Systems in the 48 States," prepared by the division of education in the Russell Institute, shows that in the American Republics the average school attendance as a percentage in the United States occurred at an attendance of 87.8 per cent. Oregon had an attendance of 87.8 per cent. in 1910 the average number of days at school exceeded the Saskatchewan average of 100 days in twenty-nine states of the American Union. In Rhode Island, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and California the average was 90 per cent. or more above ours.

A complete school year in Saskatchewan consists, theoretically, of 210 teaching days and the public school course is planned to cover eight years. Suppose a pupil could average thirty days' absence yearly and yet make his grade annually he would have to receive eight times one hundred and eighty days' instruction. If the average Saskatchewan school child, however, attends only 100 days annually it is evident that it would take him fourteen years and two months to cover the public school course at the same rate. These are startling figures and indicate very clearly the need of better attendance laws. At present more than half of all the school children of Saskatchewan are still below Grade 4.

Women Farmers in Britain

Government Will Train Women in Agricultural Pursuits

"Britons are coming slowly to a realization of the country's needs," declared the Hon. Walter Hume Long, president of the local government board, London, in addressing the inaugural of the Women's National Land Service Corps, which intends to undertake agricultural work during the absence at the front or in the government employ of the men of the British Isles.

Mr. Long declared that the government required co-operation of all classes, and heartily approved of the women's movement, which, he said, meant that women would now take even a larger share in the defence of the country.

"We want soldiers," said Mr. Long. "The government means to have sufficient soldiers, and we are setting them. But we also want to keep the land cultivated and obtain a maximum output so that we may assist our overseas trade and our imperial position."

"There is a wide field open for women's activities. Women have proved themselves capable of work, which a single man with care thought unfit to perform, and it is the farmers' patriotic duty not to spare for a more important occupation."

"The government has announced its intention to employ a corps for the purpose of training women in agricultural pursuits."

Supernatural Increasing in Germany

The Munich correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt describes the recent prosecution of various types of occultists who have driven a flourishing trade during the war. Astrologers, seers, and palmists have reaped a golden harvest. A gigantic industry has been built upon the superstitions of the people, and the adepts in various towns are in touch with each other and with a central organization. These occultists are held responsible for numerous cases of mental breakdown and suicide.

It is believed that forests some three feet high through the branches of trees being rubbed together by the violence of the wind, thus producing the friction necessary to ignite them.

It is estimated that an acre of good fishing in the sea will yield more food in a week than an acre of the best land will yield in a year.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Mrs. Andrew G. Lund, Hughenden, Alta., writes: "Two of my babies were very much troubled with constipation and I tried several remedies without success. A neighbor advised me to try Baby's Own Tablets and they were so satisfactory that now I would use nothing else." The Tablets never fail to cure constipation and they may be given to the youngest child with perfect safety. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The use of Miller's Worm Powders induces healthy children so far as the ailments attributable to the worms are concerned. A high mortality among children is traceable to worms. These sap the strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle for life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it.

Saskatchewan Weed Law

By an amendment to the Noxious Weeds Act the Saskatchewan legislature has placed upon every municipality the duty of appointing inspectors to enforce the provisions of the act. Neglect to do this leaves the member of the council liable to a fine not exceeding $25. For the better enforcement of the law the province has been divided into six districts and a field man appointed for each. It will be the duty of these men to visit, inspect, and counsel and take such action as may be necessary to have the law enforced.

Prince is "Doing His Bit"

Wales Wins Admiration of English Primitive Methodist Chaplain

A striking tribute to the Prince of Wales is paid by Captain Kendal, one of the primitive Methodist chaplains who has been at the front, and is now serving temporarily at a midland camp.

"At a certain village," said Captain Kendal, addressing a local audience, "is a line of cottages, and many a time the Prince of Wales has slept on the floor in one of these humble homes. Over the other side of the road is a beautiful old mansion, but the prince would not go there, preferring the miner's cottage."

"I have seen the prince 'doing his bit.' He was often in danger, for he went where the boys went."

STERLING TAILORING CO., 535 College Street Toronto

The taste for frog eating is increasing in America. Last year 6,000,000 frogs were placed on the menu cards of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The food which is taken to nourish the body and keep up vigor and strength becomes a poison to the system when digestion fails. You feel drowsy after meals, lose appetite, suffer from constipation, have pains in the bowels and through the body. Instead of being digested, the food ferments and gives rise to gas or wind on the stomach, which crowds about the heart, causing suffocating feelings and derangements of the heart's action.

Resort to aids to digestion cannot afford more than temporary relief, for the trouble is caused by torpid, sluggish action of the liver and bowels. These organs must be awakened so that they will filter the poisons from the blood and remove from the system the accumulating waste matter.

Here lies the cause of indigestion and dyspepsia, and neglect only leads to chronic and complicated derangements, which destroy all comfort and shorten life.

The ideal treatment for indigestion is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because they promptly and positively remove the cause of trouble. Acting directly and specifically on the liver, kidneys and bowels, they cleanse the system of all impurities, and their occasional use keeps these filtering and excretory organs regular and active. The blood is purified, pains and aches disappear, and such derangements as indigestion, constipation, biliousness, back-ache and kidney derangements are cured.

One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Limitations disclaimant.

Saturday, 20th May, 1916

On the above date anyone who has any amount of money from 10c up, either at home or in the bank, are advised to transfer the amount either to their pocket book or pocket, and to be ready to stand and deliver at a minute's notice to any of the fair sex, who will be stationed all through The Pass with tags. Knowing of the liberality of the people of this community in any enterprise of a public nature, this notice will serve to warn the people of the coming Tag Day, which has been instituted to provide funds for the purchase of instruments for the band of the local battalion, viz. the 192nd Overseas Battalion, C.E.F. This battalion, which promises to become a success in every other way, would not be complete without a band, and the immediate success of this band will be assured as soon as instruments can be purchased. The battalion has already signed on enough men who have been bandmen, and whose average qualifications will compare favorably with any complete band in the Dominion. Some few local enthusiasts have already promised an instrument each to the battalion, and these offers have been augmented by amounts given by influential business men in this district. A list of these generous subscribers and the nature of their subscriptions will be published at a later date. In the meantime, no one is barred from giving an instrument—bearing a suitable inscription—to the battalion. The Pass, and in the years to come, our boys will be kept delighted with music that only a full military band can make.

Buy a Tag and don't wait for change.

Sentiment and Editors

Last week we looked in a neighboring newspaper, expecting to see an account of how a young man had gone wrong. Not a line about the young man could be found. A broken hearted wife or relative had gone to the editor and asked him to say nothing, and the tears had won the promise of him. We have gone through the same thing ourselves many times. An editor is humane; he has his likes and dislikes, he loves and he hates; his strength between love and duty is just that of an average citizen. We remember one case in particular. We had a certain case at hand because a fearful mother bowed down with grief had come to us and begged the favor. A big-headed man jumped on us and called us a coward for so doing. A short time afterwards the shadow fell across his life, and he came running and begging us to say nothing. "Yes," we replied, "but don't you remember the time you called us a coward for keeping still?" "I know," he replied, "but I was wrong. It is different now." And we listened to him, but there are things an editor cannot suppress. There are other things we can forget with propriety. As far as we are concerned, we would rather lessen the grief of a parent than throw out a neighboring paper we failed to find what we wanted, we made no comment. But deep down in our own heart we admired that editor and thought more of him, because he had a heart that was tender and he would rather listen to the files of an unfeeling public than to the sobs of a broken-hearted mother wife and sister.

The above is from a country paper in Oregon and it tells exactly as it is known to every country newspaper man, who is known by all his patrons. It is different with the editor of the big city paper who is practically unknown to nine-tenths of his readers. He is seldom appealed to concerning the suppression of news matter that might reflect on a patron, but with a small paper it is different. Its editor is asked almost weekly to "say nothing about" such and such a matter and unless he leads the appeal, he is hard hearted and brutal. Even those who never spend a cent with the paper will expect to be favored every time they "slip a cog." So far as we are concerned, we get beastly tired of this "favoring by suppression" business, but we continue to do it—probably for the reason that we still have a heart.—Ex.

How Recruiting Stands

The report to which the Canadian-born, British-born and French-Canadians have enlisted for overseas service was indicated in the Senate in a statement by Senator Mason. His figures are instructive. Of the 697,000 English-speaking Canadian-born males available for military service $5,000, or 13 per cent of the total number have enlisted. Canadian-born French number 445,000, and of them 12,000 or about three per cent, have enlisted. British-born males from the United Kingdom number 367,000, and of these 180,000 have joined the ranks, or 60 per cent. Foreign-born citizens number 206,000, of whom 18,000, or about six per cent, have joined themselves.

So far, 320,000 men have been recruited in the Dominion. Of this number English-speaking, Canadian-born recruits represent 28 per cent, British-born 61 per cent, French-Canadians 4½ per cent and foreign-born, about six per cent.

On this showing French Canada has nothing to boast of. Four-and-a-half per cent is extremely small and no amount of explanation or excuse can hide the fact. The enlistment of the Canadian-born, too, shows room for improvement, but that improvement, we should judge from recent recruiting returns, will soon be effected. Canada has yet 180,000 men to raise before the quota for overseas service shall be complete. To do this the French-Canadians and the native-born must be urged to come forward in greater numbers than they have yet done. Senator Mason finds in the figures above-quoted ground for urging more systematic work at recruiting. He contends that the haphazard methods at present in vogue are unfair and expensive. And with this contention most patriotic Canadians will agree. A Lord Lerby with the full support of both parties behind him, would soon give us all the men we want—and give them with the least interference with our industrial efficiency.—Vancouver World.

Light and Heavy Horses

If Great Britain found it necessary to utilize the type-courses of England for military purposes and thus put a check upon racing she also finds it necessary to encourage hunting and to maintain horse shows. The reason for this is to promote the production of horses for remount purposes. Without some utilization for horses of this description other than military there would become such a scarcity that even officers' mounts would be hard to obtain. Dragoons and hussars may have been used as foot soldiers during the present war but it must be apparent that the reign of the cavalry horse has not altogether passed. He will ever be useful in colonial disturbances and in warfare against semi-civilized nations and tribes. He will ever be useful too in open fighting. That His Majesty The King, as well as his government, takes this view is proven by his recent gift of one of the best-bred horses in his stable of high-class thoroughbreds to the government of Canada for the purpose of getting remounts. That but one mind in this regard is entertained by the military authorities of Britain is further indicated by the fact that the imperial government recently accepted a gift of his famous thoroughbred stable from Colonel Hall Walker. From these points of view the advisability of Canada continuing to breed light horses and saddle horses is plain.

When peace comes, and the large number of officers that have been created return to civil life, they will doubtless continue their equestrianism. Therefore horse-back riding promises to become the vogue. Such sports as hunting and polo playing will receive an immense impetus and with them horse shows will return to greater favour than ever. In addition, the history of the horse proves that after every irruption of other means of street and road travel he has ultimately returned to his own. As the alleged horseless age came in with railway trains, it returned with the bicycle. It has come back again with the automobile and traction power. As in the two first cases in the last instance the horse will return. Possibly not to the same extent, but exactly for the same purposes, but he will be restored for the reasons, among others, that men with vitality in their veins like to handle and control living things, because of the sportsmanship he affords in freedom and daring and because of his spectacular character in the show ring. And he will never pass as a military arm.

That the heavy horse is the horse of Canada nobody would dare or care to dispute. At the same time it is evident there is room for his lighter brother. Dealing with the heavy horse, the more judgment exercised in breeding the better it will be for the country. For the last year or two there has been a slump in prices and it is to be feared, less breeding than formerly in consequence. As a result, when the increased demand, which transactions, especially in the West, would indicate has already commenced, arrives at its fullness there will be both high prices and a marked deficiency of the right sort. By this, coupled with the fact that the waste of horses in the war has been enormous, it would seem worth while to improve and accelerate horse breeding along with general agricultural production.

Anglican Church

On Saturday, May 20th, there will be a sale of garments, etc., at St. Alban's parish hall at Coleman at 3.30 p.m. The ladies of the Blairmore congregation are having a stall and earnestly solicit support. There will be music and tea provided.

Service on Sunday next, May 21st, will be at 11 a.m. as usual, conducted by Rev. H. Clay. The subject of the address will be "Who is my neighbor?"

Read--Then Think

Now that you have commenced to read this article, just keep right on to the end and then you will have absorbed the meat of the coconut.

What has this town ever done for you? It has not, if you, and clothed you and housed you, and given you employment and kept the wolf from your door for these many years.

It has done more. It has furnished you recreation, and enjoyment, and has guided you safely over many of the stones that beset the pathway of life. It has been, and is your home. But what have you done for the town.

You are making your money here but where are you spending it. Are you buying goods from the local dealers, who pay and otherwise contribute liberally to the upkeep of the community and your home, or are you sending your money away to some catalogue house that won't lend you a five cent piece to save your soul from purgatory?

And now you have reached the point where we want you to stop and think, and think hard, and to a sane sensible and patriotic purpose.

The Empty Keg

The following sad sight, as depicted by the Mahave Miner will soon pass away in many parts of America. For soon the beer will ride upon its pier, to lands where schooners are unknown, and the growler never comes. "Here is what The Miner says:

Alone on the depot platform,
Bathed in the cold winter's breeze,
Stands an empty eight-gallon beer keg
With nothing in it to freeze.
Shorn of its last former glory,
Drained of its last amber dreg—
Beardless, bungless and friendless—
Stands an empty eight-gallon keg.

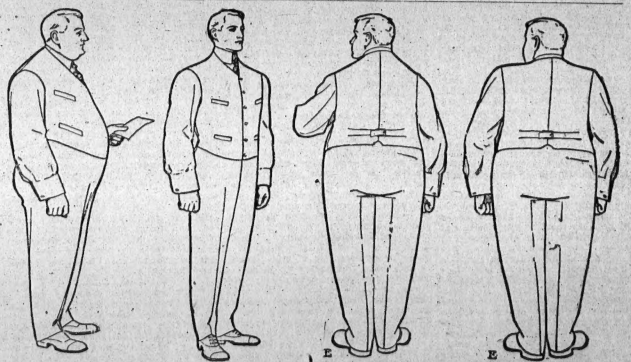

Of Interest to Metal Dealers

On account of the great and constantly increasing difficulty of securing reasonably prompt deliveries of the raw materials entering into the varied lines of products and the scarcity of both skilled and unskilled labor, due to the large number of workmen in all trades who have enlisted for overseas service, and the large number who have left their regular occupations and are now engaged on munitions work, a curtailment of output and the consequent lengthening of deliveries inevitable, certain Canadian manufacturing concerns are circulating their customers to emphasize the fact that higher prices are also inevitable and will probably obtain for a very long time to come, due primarily to the increased cost of raw materials, the scarcity of labor and the present embargo on shipments from Europe which makes Canadian concerns dependable on receiving supplies from the United States, where the rise in prices during the past year has been unprecedented. As an illustration, the following table is submitted to show the increases there from March, 1915, to March, 1916:

Copper	100 per cent.
Pig iron	50 "
Tool steel	600 "
Steel castings	33 "
Forging billets	150 "
Insulating materials, varnished canvas and mica sheets	35 "
Steel plates	200 "
Electric steel	150 "
Tin	60 "
Lead	150 "
Brass	200 "
Spelter	300 "
Cold rolled steel	220 "
Ferro-manganese	1000 "

The difficulty experienced in obtaining these materials should be borne in mind. For instance, bars and plates, which a few months ago could be secured in thirty to sixty days, now take from nine to ten months. Copper, which could be secured in thirty days, now requires four months, and shipping promises on cold rolled steel run well into 1917.

A total of 5087 prayer books have been sent to soldiers at the front by the Church Bible and Prayer Book Society, according to a statement made at the annual meeting of the society in the Anglican synod.

GET'S

Frightened Heroes

Come Brave Men Who Are Extremely Nervous

A well known big game hunter, who has bagged six tigers, several lions, and not a few rhinos, besides such small fry as leopards and buffaloes, can't bear the scuttle of a mouse. He is as nervous as if he were petticoats. The squeak of mice behind the waistcoat gives him a nervous tremor, and if he sees a mouse run across the floor he nearly has a fit.

An old Anglo-Indian, who has borne all-tribes, repelled attacks on his bastion, slipped rooves in the mud, and done scores of other brave things, look under his pillow every night for the life-for-makes.

He simply can't help it. He has got to look, or spend a sleepless night. Yet he lives in a suburb of London, where snakes are not by any means common!

A distinguished police servant who has a medal for life-saving at sea—having jumped after a suicide in mid-Atlantic—keeps a rope ladder under his bed.

He has a horror of facing a burglar staircase, so, whenever he travels alone, and he goes to many spas and by-ones since his retirement—he carries his ladder in a special bag.

SPRING REMINDERS

OF RHEUMATISM

Raw, Damp Weather Starts the Pains, But the Trouble Lies in the Blood

Spring weather is bad for rheumatic sufferers. The changes from mild to cold, the raw, damp winds start the aches and twinges, and in some of the more chronic cases, the tortures of the trouble follow. But it must be borne in mind that it is not the weather that causes rheumatism. The trouble is rooted in the blood—the changeable weather merely makes it more difficult to reach the trouble and to cure it through the blood. The poison rheumatism must be driven out. Liniments and rubbing may give temporary relief, but cannot possibly cure the trouble. The sufferer is only wasting time and money with this kind of treatment and all the time the trouble is becoming more deeply rooted—harder to cure. There is just one speedy cure—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the impure, acid-tainted blood. They purify and strengthen it and thus stop the cause of the rheumatism. Here is strong proof of the above statements. Mr. Michael J. Fennell, Fenelon, Man. says: "My mother suffered several years with rheumatism. We tried a number of remedies, but she failed to cure. Then we got Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using them for some time she was completely cured and has had no sign of the trouble since."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

At a military hospital where some of the Irish regiments were being cured back to health, a visitor, pointing to a very bad case, said to the orderly: "What are you going to do with him?"

"He's going back, sir," said the orderly.

"Going back?" said the visitor in surprised tones.

"Yes," replied the orderly, "he thinks he knows who did it!"

When Rheumatism Strikes the Heart it Kills—"Nerviline" The Cure

Effect of Nerviline on Chronic Cases is Almost Magical

Exposure to wet or cold is apt to bring on an attack. The muscles stiffen, the joints ache, and exertion brings on a scorching twinges.

Often the pain shifts from one part to another, and the pain is so dangerous, as the heart is apt to be attacked. Death as a rule follows a heart attack.

The pain of rheumatism is quickly rubbed away with Nerviline.

This is a swift, lasting and safe way to cure rheumatism. You can depend on Nerviline. It has the power, this penetrates to the control over that is so essential to a rheumatic remedy.

Plenty Business For Canuck Boats

One-half Great Lakes Tonnage is Now Engaged in Ocean Transportation

With over half the Canadian tonnage of the Great Lakes engaged in the coastwise trade in and around the United Kingdom and on the Atlantic coast, the balance of the fleet, comprising about 53 vessels, will be kept busy during the large number of charters offered for the season about to open.

As a matter of fact several owners have announced that their vessels are booked for the entire season for the grain trade, while others are prepared to fall in line but are holding back for better prices, consequently the vessel interests look forward to a bumper season. The different fleets will be pressed into service as soon as possible.

Flax For Grain

By J. H. Driedale, Director Experimental Farms, Ottawa

As a crop likely to be quite as profitable as wheat this year may be mentioned flax. The annual consumption of flaxseed in the neighborhood of 30,000,000 bushels on this continent. All but 2,000,000 bushels of this is used in the United States. The combined crops of seed in Canada and the United States fall usually 12,000,000 or 15,000,000 short of this amount. This extra seed is normally brought from Argentina, and is coming in at the present time.

Where wheat seedling has progressed rather slowly, it will often be advisable to sow the last few acres intended for wheat rather to flax. The cash returns per acre from the two crops are likely to be practically equal this year, and about the same as they were last year. So why not try the flax and run no risk with late wheat, usually a poor crop at best?

Only clean seed should be sown, and that on clean land. A limited area of well-prepared land sown with clean seed will be more profitable than a large area of badly-prepared land on which dirty seed is used. Well-prepared land means: (a) a good summerfallow, (b) first year stubble after summerfallow, (c) a second year stubble after summerfallow, (d) a third year stubble after summerfallow, (e) a fourth year stubble after summerfallow, (f) a fifth year stubble after summerfallow, (g) a sixth year stubble after summerfallow, (h) a seventh year stubble after summerfallow, (i) an eighth year stubble "It keeps a fellow too darn busy," replied the proprietor. "I advertised in a paper once about ten years ago, and I never even got time to go fishing."

The prohibition bill which is to be submitted to the people of British Columbia for decision at the general election, will be approved by a majority, come into effect on July 1st of next year. The original intention was to make it effective on January 1st. There is no provision for compensation in the bill.

The growing of even a few vegetables by twice as many people as have vegetable gardens at present would enormously simplify some of our economic problems, and give to so many more thousands of families fresher and more healthful vegetable food. Considered in relation to a few families, this may seem of small interest, but the cumulative result throughout the Dominion would be of great national importance.

Mrs. Sonville, who left for her old home in Belgium shortly after the outbreak of the war to recover her children who had been living with her father, returned to The Pass last week with the children. Mrs. Sonville tells of the difficulty she experienced in rescuing the little ones from the cruel Hun invaders, and how that her father was one of more than two hundred Belgian victims of Hun atrocities who were simply lined up and shot dead in cold blood, the whole line up being men past the military age.

"Smash everything, including the fixtures, in all so-called drug stores which are really saloons," were the orders of Mayor Hiram C. Gill of Seattle to the police on May 4th. "I am willing to take my chances with any jury if those fellows go into court and claim damages," said the mayor. "No sensible man believes that a drug store that carries $2,000 worth of liquor stock is conducting a legitimate business. My directions to the police are to make it plain to the bootleggers that this is not a kid glove campaign."

The Greenwood Lodge, in commenting on a contemporary says: "The Hope Review is five years old, but rather small for its age. It has had several papers since it was born, and is used to the battle. Its bright pages are always pleasing to the writer."

The service at the Anglican church on Sunday morning last was well attended. The preacher, Rev. H. Gray, who was assisted by J. Holden, of Bellevue, took as his subject "The place of preaching in the church's system," in which the preacher remarked that "the end was not achieved unless it resulted in action. The crucified Christ surely meant for Christians better living."

Messrs. Taylor and Blumqvist, the new lessees of the Union hotel, have had many important improvements and repairs effected, and now have the hotel opened up for business. The old dining room has been converted into a pool hall, while the former pool hall is now a nicely arranged dining room. The office is divided, and a well equipped tonorial parlor is now in charge of a thoroughly experienced and efficient barman. Messrs. Taylor & Blumqvist deserve support in their enterprise. It is their intention to give good service and to command Frank's share of the hotel patronage.

The C.P.R. have a large gang of men employed in the slide loading rock and gravel on cars for shipment to different points in Alberta and Saskatchewan where the railroad bed was undermined by the freshets of last year. In taking the material from the slide, the company is clearing the way for straightening the road over the slide and reducing considerably of the steep grade. A powerful steam shovel, capable of lifting many tons at a time, is being used. Already several hundred carloads of the debris have been shipped away.
